Dear Prof. Yaojin Wang
Nanjing University of Science & Technology, China

On behalf of the program committee of the 11th International Conference on Advanced Materials and Devices (ICAMD2019), I would like to invite you as an invited speaker in 'Oxides and Emerging Materials for Electronics' session of this conference.

This ICAMD2019 is an international conference that is organized by the Applied Physics division of the Korean Physical Society. I believe that your talk will add a new dimension to ICAMD2019 and provide a good opportunity to introduce your excellent research results to the Korean Physical Society, especially to the Applied Physics community.

The ICAMD is held every two years, and we have a website for previous ICAMD conferences (<http://www.icamd.or.kr>). The conference will be held at Ramada Plaza Jeju Hotel in Jeju, Korea from Dec. 10 to Dec. 13, 2019.

For invited speakers, reimbursement of 500 USD for partial support of your participation will be provided in cash at the secretariat office.

Please check your schedules and let me know if you will be able to accept our invitation. We look forward to hearing your positive response.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,

William Jo, Ph.D.
Chair, Program Committee, ICAMD2019
Professor, Ewha Womans University
